QOLIE-31-P
PERMISSION FOR ACADEMIC and COMMERCIAL USE

Thank you for your interest in a translation of the QOLIE-31-P. RAND holds the copyright for the original English QOLIE-31. The copyrights for all QOLIE-31-P translations are held by the QOLIE Development Group: Epilepsy Therapy Project. The Epilepsy Therapy Project grants permission to use the QOLIE-31-P in accordance with the following conditions that shall be assumed by all to have been agreed as a consequence of accepting and using this document:

1. Copyright Statement to be printed on every QOLIE-31-P: All versions of the QOLIE-31-P© copyright by the Epilepsy Therapy Project (based on Cramer et al., Epil Behav. 2003). All rights reserved. Supporting information about the Patient-Weighted QOLIE-31-P is available on www.epilepsy.com.

2. When the QOLIE-31-P is described in a publication, the citation should be listed as: Cramer JA. Van Hamme G. N132 Study Group. Maintenance of improvement in health-related quality of life during long-term treatment with levetiracetam. Epilepsy & Behavior 2003; 4:118-123.

3. Changes to the QOLIE-31-P may not be made without the written permission of the Epilepsy Therapy Project. If accepted, any such changes shall be clearly identified as having been made by the recipient. This restriction is necessary to maintain the structural integrity of the original instrument.

4. The user accepts full responsibility, and agrees to indemnify and hold the QOLIE Development Group harmless, for any consequences resulting from the use of the QOLIE-31-P.

5. The user accepts full responsibility, and agrees to indemnify and hold the QOLIE Development Group harmless, for the accuracy of any translations of the QOLIE-31-P into another language and for any errors, omissions, misinterpretations, or consequences thereof.

6a. Academic groups requesting use of QOLIE-31-P translations are given permission for use with one copy of each questionnaire as requested

6b. Commercial groups interested in using the QOLIE-31-P translations should contact the Epilepsy Therapy Project (attention Joyce Cramer) for information and permission (info@epilepsytherapyproject.org). No other group (e.g., professional translators) is authorized to provide copies of the questionnaires for any use. Commercial sponsors are asked to provide funds for Epilepsy Therapy Project to support the nonprofit website www.epilepsy.com in return for use of the instrument.

7. Epilepsy Therapy Project allows translation and cross-cultural adaptation of all instruments. The user agrees to provide the Epilepsy Therapy Project with information about any other translations or cross-cultural adaptations of the QOLIE-31. All translations should include information about the translation process, sponsor, and the clinical trial or other use for which the translation was created. The user also agrees to provide a copy of the new version (paper and electronic) to the Epilepsy Therapy Project (Joyce Cramer) when it is completed. All versions will be archived for distribution on request.

8. The user agrees to notify the Epilepsy Therapy Project of any publications in which QOLIE-31-P data are presented.

Sincerely,

Joyce A Cramer
